

Slavyanka Chorus Presents

Songs of Faith, Love, and Delight

Choral Music by Contemporary Slavic Women Composers

Friday, June 7, 8 PM
2300 Bancroft Way
Berkeley, CA

Saturday, June 8, 4 PM
1985 Louis Road
Palo Alto, CA

Sunday, June 9, 4 PM
4420 Geary Boulevard
San Francisco, CA

Artistic Director
Irina Shachneva

For info and tickets, visit
www.slavyankachorus.org

You're invited...

Come with us on a musical journey to a world of choral music almost completely unknown to most Americans - a concert featuring a rich potpourri of folk songs and sacred hymns by renowned women composers from Russia, Serbia, Ukraine, and Bulgaria.

Songs of faith, songs of love and its burdens, and songs of just pure fun – everything from Orthodox chants to soul-stirring Slavic folk songs.

Whether you're a seasoned enthusiast of Slavic music or looking for a new cultural experience, you'll come away with a deeper appreciation for the extraordinary depth and beauty of Slavic music and for the ways these contemporary women are adding their distinct voices to its ancient traditions.

Pick a date and join us for an unforgettable musical experience, filled with harmony, cultural exploration, and delight!

About Slavyanka Chorus

For 45 years, Slavyanka Chorus has been bringing Russian and Slavic music to Bay Area audiences. The chorus has toured Russia four times, produced 10 recordings, and under its Artistic Director Irina Shachneva has performed the American premieres of multiple choral works. The choir has also undertaken numerous initiatives to promote cultural understanding between the peoples of Russia and America.

For more details and ticket reservations, visit
www.slavyankachorus.org